

ABSTRACT

The invention relates to a light diffuser comprising a thermoplastic layer incorporating organic bead-containing microvoids and having an integral
5 smoothing layer on at least one surface thereof, the smoothing layer exhibiting an average thickness less than 12 microns.

10017002-124404